The Changing Landscape of Quality Measurement: The Future is Digital

In an era where digital transformation is reshaping health care, understanding the evolving landscape of quality measurement is crucial. The shift to electronic clinical quality measures is accelerating rapidly. This training session will explore the future of eCQMs. Attendees will gain insights into the necessary steps to ensure their Critical Access Hospitals understand and are prepared to meet the increasing demands of eCQM reporting requirements and be aware of upcoming and anticipated measure changes.

At the end of this session, attendees will be able to:

- Describe strategic frameworks from the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services related to quality measurement;
- Identify if next steps are needed to ensure your CAH is prepared to meet additional eCQM reporting requirements; and
- Prepare for potential changes to current quality measures and be aware of anticipated new eCQMs.
